Terms - Notes:*One photo of any/all doa per box - out of bag.

We can never guarantee receiving items with very low stock numbers!

Large or XL corals or fish are not guaranteed, but usually fine.

Most places are about 20 pcs. per box on average.

Low stock items are a lottery to receive.

Prices may change without notice. (they rarely do that)

Sizes fluctuate and vary somewhat, they are wild animals.

DOA claims must be supported with photograph within 24 hours.

This is not because we don't believe you, but in order for us to have recourse.

If we have to give you credit, we want to be able to ask for some too, and without a photo we can't. We ask for your support us in this. THANKS!

In tranship, the animal cost is what we get back (with photo), and give you.

Overall DOA's are less than 5%, and often ZERO.

We don't use the cheapest sources, but the ones with the best stuff, that know how to ship it, and those guys cost more.

There are lots of places to get cheaper corals, there are not lots of places to get better fish or corals.

In general you will find the sizing and quality to be above and beyond what you are used to seeing, except at the highest-end top-dollar places.

On average most items retail for two to three times your pricing here.

No guarantee on any item over $100, order at your own risk.

We are not responsible for delays due to airline.

If you have a problem due to an airline delay that is between you and the airline. You cannot hold us responsible for that, a claim must be filed with the airline if this ever happens.

We do not guarantee anemones, Euphyllia (besides small), and a few other dicey shippers. If you order something that is 'no guarantee', we tell you first so you know.

In general all items are guaranteed alive. With photos we can claim and return the animal part of your cost, as a credit. No worries though, most boxes have no dead.

We also feel that when you are getting pieces for half or less of regular average retail prices, there should be some consideration on your part if you get 2 DOA pieces out of two dozen. :)

You always pay the domestic shipping from LAX to your local airport to the airline when you pickup.
